

Axel Börsch-Supan

Independent Director
Pioneer Global Management S.p.A.

Axel Börsch-Supan is the director of the Munich Center for the Economics of Aging” (MEA) at the Max Planck Institute for Social Law and Social Policy and currently Professor for the Economics of Aging at the Technical University of Munich.

He was chairman of the Council of Advisors to the German Economics Ministry, has co-chaired the German Pension Reform Commission, and was member of the German President’s Commission on Demographic Change.

He has served as a consultant to many governments, the OECD, the World Bank, among others. He studied Economics and Mathematics in Munich and Bonn.

He holds a Ph.D. degree from M.I.T. (Advisor: Daniel McFadden) and was Assistant Professor of Public Policy at the JFK-School of Government at Harvard University.