

Jack W. Lin

Head of Asia

Jack W. Lin joined Pioneer Investments as the Head of Asia in January of 2012 where he is responsible for managing all sales, marketing and client servicing activities in markets across these regions.

Prior to joining Pioneer Investments, Jack was the Managing Director of Asia Pacific for Janus Capital Group from 2008 to 2011. He began his career in investment management serving in a range of roles with Franklin Templeton. As an analyst and portfolio manager within Mark Mobius' Templeton Emerging Markets Team from 1995 to 2000, he had primary coverage of Asian markets and secondary coverage of other emerging markets in Eastern Europe and Latin America. In 2003, he was seconded by Franklin Templeton to establish and serve as the CEO of its joint venture asset management company in China. His last role in Franklin Templeton was as its Head of Institutional Business in Asia from 2006-2008.

Jack started his career as a lawyer with the California based international law firm of Loeb & Loeb.

He has a BA in Economics from Vanderbilt University (class of 1989) and a JD / MBA from the University of California Los Angeles (class of 1993).