

Kenneth J. Taubes

Chief Investment Officer of U.S. Investment Management

Executive Vice President

Ken Taubes is Chief Investment Officer of U.S. Investment Management for Amundi and Amundi Pioneer*. He is Portfolio Manager of Pioneer Funds – Strategic Income, Pioneer Funds – U.S. Dollar Aggregate Bond and Pioneer Funds – Flexible Opportunities. He is also Portfolio Manager of Amundi Pioneer’s Core and Core Plus strategies for institutional clients. In addition, he oversees the equity and fixed income portfolio management and research analyst staff in the U.S., and is chairman of the U.S. Investment Committee and a member of the U.S. Management Committee.

Prior to joining Amundi Pioneer (previously Pioneer Investments) in 1998, Ken spent seven years with Putnam Investments in Boston, most recently as senior vice president and senior portfolio manager for over US$15 billion in fixed income assets for more than 30 institutional accounts and 15 open-end mutual funds.

Ken also served as Senior Vice President and corporate treasurer of Home Owners Savings Bank in Boston, New England’s largest thrift holding company and one of the nation’s largest mortgage banks, where he worked from 1986 to 1990. He began his career in 1980 with Bank of New England as a treasury officer in the bank’s international treasury division.

He holds a BS in accounting from Syracuse University’s Utica College (1980) and a MBA from Suffolk University (1985).

* Amundi Pioneer Asset Management (Amundi Pioneer) refers to Amundi’s business in the U.S., formed in 2017 when Amundi acquired Pioneer Investments.